Court Companion Services

Court support for crime victims and their families.

Victim Support Service... providing services statewide.

What is the Court Companion program?

For many people who have been the victim of a crime, the prospect of going to court can make them feel anxious and confused.

The Court Companion program provides trained volunteers who can support victims and their families through this often daunting process.

Court Companions are trained volunteers who can:

- Provide information about courts and court processes
- Access safe waiting areas
- Sit with a witness before, during and after giving evidence
- Ensure court officials can locate a witness when needed in court
- Sit with family members during court
- Offer a listening ear in the difficult time immediately after attending court

The Court Companion service is free and confidential.

When can a Court Companion help?

Court Companions can support victims of crime during:

- Court tours
- Criminal court hearings at Magistrates, District and Supreme courts
- Youth Court hearings
- Family Conferences as a support person or victim's representative
- Coroner's Court proceedings
- Other tribunals and inquests where appropriate
